Don't under estimate the ability of shotgunner on taking out SBH. Most SBH will try to remain stealth when they see one. As you wonder around you can see their shimmer. You can run pass them and think that you did not see them. Turn around and chase them with shotgun and you can mow down SBH in 2 shots. I have got a lot of SBH this way. The way you talk about squishing SBH sometimes won't work. I have seen many people do that and once in complex I was couching between the wall and barrack the APC missed me five time and all the bullets it fired all missed me. Although I did not get a chance for planting the nuke in time to blow up the barr (arrived 1 sec too late and they thought they got rid of all SBH in the game) but it shows that it is not perfect for taking out SBH.
