Once you reach the max height fly backwards, this will target your machine gun upwards and allow you to hit them if they also go so high. On most flying maps you will find you are sniper bait. Try avoid open fields. A lot of points can be stacked up for example on field by hitting the harvester with minimum risk. Try to always attack vehicles as really only apc's pose a threat. 1. I agree on the flying backwards, that's what I do2. MRLS is pretty good agenist AirCraft if it can keep it's distance, the homimg missiles do relatively decent damage.
