When I am being owned by a sniper - If I have enough cash, I will get one just to run the sob sniper over.Does neone else get a "jitter" when they goto run over ppl ? You "hit" them and your vehic pauses then u continue forward then they go boink. I get this all the time.yeah i get that all the time..... but you know what is even more annoying is when you go to run them down and they simply slide off the front to the side of the stank and they notice you..... very annoying....
