Get on that upper ramp, go to the edge and lob your timed c-4 on top of the turret. Can't defuse it, and then you can finish it off with more c-4, or the grenade launcher. No money involved. Perhaps getting rid of that baddy in the first rush and then saving for a ion strike to place at the end of the strip would be a good idea. Probably best to have some company come along with ya, maybe a sniper to idle on the bridge and peg off engi/techs.
