It still surprises me just how many players out there just don't understand the idea of rationing proxy mines !!!In walls flying, it seemed like everyone wanted to be Hotwire and there were literally mounds of proxy in all the "wrong" places. This includes a fool I watched studiously attach 6 mines all around his mammoth, like a grass skirt No amount of prompting/reminding/cajoling worked, and needless to say within a 5-10 minute period (foillowing a stalemate), we GDI were exterminated.PLEASE BE REMINDED THAT THERE IS A 30 REPEAT 30 LIMIT TO PROXIMITY MINES.And they should be used primarily for base defense.Peace, out!
