I don't use a keyboard. I have programmed my Strategic Commander (basically an additional-super gaming mouse), so that I play 1st person games with basically 2 mice, except the StratComm has 6 buttons on it, for crouch, jump, 180 turn, etc. Before this year, I never played a 1st person shooter, so I bought the hardware to assist me. I still don't have the jump/strafe/shoot skills a lot of these lifer-gamers have, which is why Renegade appeals to me (more than just point and shoot)
