

---

Subject: Hints from the Kitty herself ;)

Posted by Anonymous on Fri, 13 Sep 2002 20:42:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

quote:Originally posted by Havoc _elite: quote:Originally posted by aircraftkiller2001:She couldn't be more wrong concerning air units.I suggest that anyone who isn't a good pilot should go buy a tank and stay being the groundpounders they were born to be.If you're a groundpounder, you're one of those people who can't fly worth jack and thinks that the Transport Helicopter will survive anything -- including five snipers waiting outside your base.Leave the air units up to people like me. I take out any unit from high class snipers to low class snipers... Down to Stealth Tanks and Buggies, Humm-vees and Mammoths... It's easy. Snipers are no problem for me considering I know how to fly out of their field of vision.ACK dont over do it, if you would fly in the centre field of city with 3 Havocs oon the main bridge even you wouldnt be able to excape from them... Im a pro pilot like you but i never survived more then 3 havocs!I said I know how to fly out of their field of vision. I'd get two before the third saw me.

---