okay fine, what if i just pasted white skins over everything except the stealth glow?... now i can see all those hidding snipers and units which are dark colored in dark places... but hey i'm not cheating am i? heck since i haven't changed the stealth skin thats not cheating is it?... oh and lets not forget about the beacon... how about i make its glow a nice bright orange.. not cheating you say? you know there are much worse things than glowing stealth skins but you don't seem to care about those half as much as you care about the stealth..
