

---

Subject: Hints from the Kitty herself ;)

Posted by Anonymous on Fri, 09 Aug 2002 07:52:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

She couldn't be more wrong concerning air units. I suggest that anyone who isn't a good pilot should go buy a tank and stay being the groundpounders they were born to be. If you're a groundpounder, you're one of those people who can't fly worth jack and thinks that the Transport Helicopter will survive anything -- including five snipers waiting outside your base. Leave the air units up to people like me. I take out any unit from high class snipers to low class snipers... Down to Stealth Tanks and Buggies, Humm-vees and Mammoths... It's easy. Snipers are no problem for me considering I know how to fly out of their field of vision.

---