I personally love it. Especially on the map Complex (That is the one with all the ramps in your base right? If not then i mean Canyon). I have found this real cool spot where you can sit and wait for people going past and they never know whats hit em! Plus the other day i was a Stealth Black Hand and i got in to GDI's base but my Vehicle got destroyed (Should have been an Engi ) so i was left in the base alone and i went and hid deep in the ramps and vents of their base. I couldn't get out because i literally had no more than 5 life left! But i was full on Ammo so i fired on Vehicled going past and i would watch as they turned their turrets round frantically looking for where the shots are coming from! Hehe eventually though a Mammoth found me out and he told a nearby Mobius. And that was my fun over
