Mammoth tanks are slow and they need medium tank cover because Nod tanks rush into the minimum range of the mammoth, even with the missiles, and kill them with almost no damage. But if they're behind mediums, then they rush up to buildings and missile them, or just sit back behind the bunch, still having more than twice the Medium tank's punch, they're very nice. Just have 1 mammoth and 3 mediums covering it instead of running around like dummies and watch the enemies get squished.
