Yech, yep, two Mubiuses can own if they are playing some hardcore D. I know me and another Mobius pretty much stopped Nod on Hourglass one time when they kept throwing everything at us and most of our buildings were down. Mmmm...melted flame tanks. Makes me think that I should make a more conscious effort to target the barracks first when I'm on Nod, just so the team doesn't have to deal with Mubiuses and Hotwires and Patches in the end game
