When the game first starts on any map, go out in force as a unit. Squads have much more firepower than more than one person, and while one soldier with c-4 isnt a big deal, five soldiers with c-4 is. And when you do make it to your target stay with the c-4. The enemy cannot disarm the c-4 AND kill the three troopers left. I understand teamwork can be real hard to coordinate in this game, but if your team won't cooperate, just follow them to their goal and back up whatever they are doing, idiotic as it may seem. Blowing up a turret is better than nothing at all!
