Given the chance I'll steal anything (except friendly). I love free stuff but I get a whole lot more satisfaction when I'm Gdi or visible nod. Its so sweet when the victim starts name calling. This is a tactic of oppertunity and should be done as so. Lurking, waiting to steal is only a good plan if you see the other team feild repairing their own vehicles.If you see the oppertunity I say go for it especially if you can come up behind them while they are repairing. They might see you but you have the advantage because they cant react in time to stop you[May 18, 2002: Message edited by: Frontrunner]
