grenades are also good against low-flying air vehicles. IF you can time/angle it just right, it does about as much damage as a rocket would, and there's more in a clip. Try posting yourself on the skysc*rs in City_Flying, as the aircraft almost always go below the top of the building(to avoid the AGT) When they start hovering to fire on the barracks, let loose a rain of death. Best to have 2-3 up there.
