The only thing that even resembled an insult was the word lame, which of course, you countered with by calling him a moron and me an idiot...why even bother? Stop spamming - with both your insults AND "correction" posts - it seriously is getting on a lot of people's nerves.What gets on my nerves is having to scroll through detailed specifications for some idiot's system, as if I really give a fvck that he has an Athlon XP 1800+ blah blah blah.Consider changing your signature.
