quote:Originally posted by Hitman021:I made this on up myself, wich there is no teamwork so meaning it is hard to get people to cooperate, well if you cooperate, at very begining of the game(if enemy has no base defenses) become an engi, now get another engi to put c4's on you, the engi putting the c4's on you just needs to keep refilling at the pt, put alot of c4's on the engi, now if your the kamikaze engie, get the engie that put those on you to follow you, rush the base and run to the mct, let the other engie detonate you, now if your almost dead and ur the kamikazie engie just get detonated immedialty but be sure to be next to an enemy Another great tactic from HITMAN! What bugs me about this post, outside of the obviously n00bian tactic, is the near-incoherence of the author's language. Take a fvcking 3rd grade grammar and punctuation class.
