For example, if you are buggy rushing with engines, why don't have the driver c4 the building, also?Thats not a good idea - first off you lose the vehicle. Second off, if you are playing a semi-decent team your C4 will be disarmed and third providing cover is really effective. If you have a hotwire tagging along in any tank, you can buy enough time for the hotwire to take out a building. (I know this from experience).
