Yeah, although mining a vehicle may sound like a good idea, it is a waste of mines. Another mining idea that might sound good is those Tech/Hotwire mine attack. They will run in, toss a mine, and back off. Although that's kewl... it's also a waste when there are also others trying to protect certain structures with mines. Sometimes, those Tech/Hotwire players don't aim well with those mines so you have a bunch of mines all over the place and in bad places. Sometimes, I'll be mining entrances of certain structures and a few minutes later, they're gone! When I approach a couple remaining ones, they disappear before my eyes! Jeez... someone is wasting mines out there!
