the chem trooper and c4 on tank things aren't cheap-they're designed in. The beacon in the PT, on the other hand... Oh yes, and if you time the release JUST RIGHT, and know EXACTLY where the vehicle exit point is, you can land yourself in the refinery stack. Or, for that matter, on the silo, or on the very top... Anyone ever landed on the HoN's hand? That would be cool... You can also plant a beacon on the high rim of the PP, though that is easy to get at if you know what you're doing.
