I'll also have to see how much armor is left after the second hit for the medium and the 3rd hit for the mammoth. In real games it's impossible to tell accurately because of all the fighting going on. Still, the mammoth does more than double the damage against an obelisk than a medium would.I'm not trying to say that the mammoth is the most powerful unit. I'm simply saying that it has it's uses, particularly in groups. I personally do prefer medium tanks most of the time.
