Then that makes mammies 4 times more effective against the obelisk than medium tanks.If a medium tank gets in (purely a number for example) 6 shots at the obelisk before being destroyed, then a mammy would be able to get in 12 shots in the same time plus would survive two more hits and therefore would manage to get in 24 shots at the obelisk before being destroyed.Hmmm.... it's not going to run around the back side of the powerplant (on City) to ram the incoming APC, but that's not what a mammy is for. (I love doing that, btw.. easily kills all the APC passengers before they can get close to the PP entrances.)
