quote: In mission 10, why in hell use the ion cannon?!! You have a mammoth tank at your disposal just shoot that temple apart! AHEM eh, in action movies the hero fights the bad guy hand to hand. Although the hero and the bad guy have an entire army with them, you got to have an epic ending, yes, and I know mission 10 isn't the last, but still how lame it is if it goes like this, hmmm here is the temple, let's just shoot it and not have to step in it. And there will be no epic ending. Really think about it like in action movies the bad guy is dying from a bullet, a stuntman you haven't seen the entire movie shoots really. And by the way, in the first C&C (TD) in the last GDI mission, try destroying all the buildings but the temple of Nod, damage it until it's almost destroyed, then destroy it with an ion cannon to see a different ending.
