Subject: Can't we all just work together?
Posted by Anonymous on Thu, 25 Apr 2002 13:29:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I like to play with teamwork a lot, but there are those times that I really don't care about winning. So I end up fooling around perhaps, like Chem trooper rushing, sniper and ect. But on the other hand, if someone really wants me to do a job for them like repair them, i'll go do that. And at other times, when I don't feel like fighting much, i'll go do recon or something else constructive."Don't take life too seriously - you can't get out of it alive"