Again I played on a couple games and i got my team working well together , and we dropped there base , atleast until a few games later most of my guy were from gdi and new to the server , i could get one or two ot follow me but not many , but somehow we still dropped their base and won , (2 nuke becons by me helped alot) but i noticed that if u have mvp they tend to listen alittle better , some do just because u seem to know what u r doing .
