In real life you have to reload every 6 rounds with a tactical rifle. and with what havoc has (close to the 50 caliber) it is a reload every shot. I dont think i have seen to many 50 cal with a clip. Most are bolt action and only can fire 1 massive bullet at a time. if there were more specs on the guns i could tell you more but i can just relate it to what i know and what it looks like. The 50 cal though is an armour piercing round as well as a sniper rifle. they are used to rip lots of things to shreds especially helicopters and jeeps.
