1) One time at the Mesa level, I was in a NOD Light Tank and decided to cause some trouble by attacking their factory from the tiberium cave. I would have thought they would repair it, but no. I kept shooting the factory till it was in the yellow. Nothing. Kept shooting till it was in the red. "GDI Weapons Factory destroyed." I destroyed the GDI weapons factory alone, in a light tank. How stupid can they get? Well, even stupider apparently. After repairing some 100 armor I lost, I came back and attacked the Barracks. No one repaired it, and I eventually destroyed the Barracks, alone and in the same light tank. What was everyone in the GDI base doing? I think only 1 gunner and a soldier came after my tank the entire time. 2) This isn't really a noob thing, but lag more like. I was flying my damaged apache back to base in City, and I landed on a skysc****r to repair it. Just as I landed, some timely burst of lag hit and I ended up exiting and falling off the skysc****r 200 feet and dying. Another lag instance is the tail rotor of my chopper getting stuck in the wall, but a lot of people have probably have that happen.
