True he is. He makes a lot of cool stuff. But OMG I've seen him rip on new people that have legitimate questions. Is it the young generations belief that ripping on inexperienced people is cool? I'll have to remember that when I start teaching. I've always believed in my 34 years that helping people understand is far better than bashing them. But the majority of the posts I've read from acftkiller (and yes acft IS ACCURATE ABBREVIATION) have demonstrated an arrogant and rude attitude. Not very welcoming to new blood coming into the game. Maybe he feels threatened by that new blood. He keeps ragging on that capt dude for maps. And people wonder why Terry Nichols, Timothy McVeigh, and Ted Kazinski went over the edge, maybe they dealt with too many rude idiots and just pushed back in the only way they had left available to them. Think about that. Just be nice to people.
