Playing as a technician is my part in the team. I also I a mine addicted and ussualy end mining all the entrances. Thats a pretty good strategy. At least it warns you when someone is trying to sneak in to deploy c4s or beacons. But the mines damage is pathethic. And also I don get it... why the keep dissapearing? It is a time limit or deployable maximum number? Anyway their damage sucks. And if you deploy them in a row when someone pass near them they all go boom. They really should increase their damage.
