I've noticed that the first word that comes out of peoples mouth at the start of a match is "save for flame tanks" and gdi says "buy tanks to defend from flame rush" why must gdi always defend from the flame rush, med tanks work wonders at taking out a base and if nod has 4 artillerys and an engine{maybe light tank backup} they can stop any rush. I was just wondering why nod always feels the need to flame rush and why gdi never feels like saying "save up for med tank rush"
