well tonight's game was at first for laughs. it was just danziger(you don't know him, but he plays alot), stoney and i. we started on fields and everybody bought vehicles so we could take pics of stoney's used tank lot. lol.. then stoney's bro joined in(trixter), and we had a buggy race on volcano. it was fun. i tried to cheat and take a short cut on the course, but was foiled by the harvy coming into base. lol.. then i decided to remove the pw so other players could join and it was a fun game, though it got a bit "warpy" at times. still though, it was fun destroying the nod base. when it got down to the HON, their last building, it was very tough to destroy, despite have at least 2 mummies and 2 mediums pounding away. i think the game would still be going, but the noddies started coming out of the building, trying to destroy our tanks. it finally fell and we called it a night....please don't be shy about emailing me if you're interested in playing on the server!zukkov
