What I love is how some people act so surprised when you work with them. Like on that same server...when I wasn't screaming with the help of CAPS LOCK, I told a Hotwire group to hold, as they had no cover. I went in, bought an Officer (our Ref was down, and their Hand was down, so no reason for a Patch) and the team with me taking out inf. was able to wax the Power Plant. So from now on ACTIVELY offer to help, escort, give critical inf. rides back to base, etc. Maybe we can save this game one person at a time....
