
Subject: Sick of fing public servers

Posted by Anonymous on Thu, 11 Apr 2002 13:09:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I feel your pain. It is frustrating me as well. Ghost Recon is good therapy. You should check it out, most servers feature excellent TEAMPLAY. Not sure if the game appeals to a more mature crowd as it is slower paced or not but, it seems like the players team up better. Renegade is at the end of the string for me right now. Crap servers, crap team players, lag, and ridiculous bugs (harvy). All combine to = game not destined to survive long. It's too bad, this game has incredible potential (Joe Barry Carroll had potential as well) and that is the only reason I am sticking with it (but, not as long as J.B.Carroll did in the NBA).
