Im sick of only seeing engineers repairing structures, And i want something, anything done to make snipers better because only hunting premium infantry units is not possible at most times and waiting around for a while to get a kill that gets you 30-60 points doesn't help your ladder score get higher quicker at all.Maybe if they still did get their score when shooting tanks but did just a little more damage against tanks so it is slightly noticable?If anything I would have snipers do less damage against light vehicles so both the vehicles and especially the aircraft can shine and then do more damage (not a lot) against heavy armored tanks.[April 11, 2002: Message edited by: Every Silent Victim]
