my favorite strategy was one i took off the tips board posted on a fan's sight. it only works when you started with 10000 credits. you built pp then refinery, then airstrip. then just start producing bikes. when you got about 6 of em, you went after the enemy harvy for har@ssment purposes. meanwhile you built tanks as fast as you could and attacked the enemy base, all the while continuing to build tanks. if the first wave failed, the second one would usually get em. this strat worked against average players, but failed miserably against good ones. lol...
