yah, some of you guys are just d@mn good at dodging tanks. i'm about medium at it i suppose, but not that great. i've been squished many times. to me that ranks only slightly behind being sniped on the "p*ssed me off" scale. but it's part of the game. if you're having a problem with swatting those li'l infantry "flies", then back off and shoot em or just ignore them and return to destroying the base. often, when you stop manuevering they do too and they get sloppy. such as, i'll be motionless with a flame tank firing up a building, then i move backwards suddenly and i'll squish somebody trying to plant c4 on me. lol...
