When I got there, some n00b started shooting at me with his auto rifle. I shot at him to show it wouldn't kill him and drove off to the hilltop. He followed me all the way to the top on foot still shooting at me. Instead of saying something, I backed the FT into him, pushing him right into the tiberium field. He soon died thereafter. Hmmmm that is an interesting idea. Will try that next time some idiot teammate starts shooting at me after I stole a enemy tank.
