StoneRook: Yes, I will check out that link, tnx, I have play loved playing strategy games, RTS, and have also studied books on major battles and different formations etc. All of you must have experieced a few good games with good teamwork, I'm really surprised at the level of teamwork in most games, even when in one, when our war factory was gone, I had only vehicle left and no one would steal it, I'd back it into the base get out and we'd all repair it quickly, this went on for like 10 mins, the enemy finally one, but we put up a heel of a fight. Funny.
