Mammoth tanks are great in smaller games and there isn't enough people to take it out. But in large games i hate being in a mammoth because they are expensive, a big target for everyone else, and they give the enemy a lot of points for blowing you up. Another point though is if you have engineers repairing the mamoths then they are a big problem for Nod. I say go for the mammoth if you will have an engineer. If not stay with the medium tank
