Tech has always been my fav.....but sometimes ppl don't listen to me when I tell em that there's a 30 mine limit while they r wasting mines on stooopid places and my mine in the obliisk keep disappearing....Why didn't westwood put the limit thing on the manual???? Being a tech requires a lot of skills.....u can't just place mines thinking it's going to stop ppl....in the walls map, I sneaked in as a stealth and there were like 10+ mines all crunched up together ath the entrance to the barracks...I just run close set one off and run back, the chain reaction set off all the mines, and I just calmly walk on to the pedestal to place my nuke.
