I got to the second boulder, and planted a beacon by the wall of the PPlant. Did a lil damage. As far as making it all the way to the power plant I have never tried. But you can make it lil over half. When you go to first boulder crouch wait a sec and back straight up crouched not to far though maybe a step or 2. The rockets will hit the rock and you should be fine. Wait another second and run to second rock and crouch down and wait. Same thing will happen. That is as far as I have got. I found it always easier get 2 techs, get an APC rush the AGT and then remote c4 it. Better chance of taking it out and then hopefully your team will attack the base.
