Just crouch and keep behind the boulder then crouch to the barrier between the boulder and the hand of nod. After that you can either mad dash to the Hand of Nod or crouch along the wall off the power plant until the obelisk is out of view...then blow the plant and roam free!! GDI is the same principal I believe you can crouch through to the infantry barracks...try to keep as far away from the AGT as possible until you are close to cover.I tried that as a NOD Black Hand Cost=400. Crouched down gotten to the big rock and still gotten killed by the AGT. So there is no way you could have done it. So guess you will have to prove it either showing it online or providing a screenshot of you getting past the AGT without getting hit or killed in process.
