I'm not at that part yet. I'm at the Cathedral with the Black Guards. There's this one chopper left that i shot and missed and it just zooms across the map. You have a quarter of a second before it's off your screen. I have yet to kill that dumb thing, especially since it's path and timing are at random, dang that sucks. But you might wanna try putting some remote C4 where he's gonna run to.
