exactly! gdi stuff is not fancy but it is very effective if used properly. it actually takes more teamwork to properly coordinate the nod forces. having a stealth tank for instance takes patience and cunning, don't try to sit and go toe to toe with mediums and mammoths. it also takes a map that has room to maneuver in order for the stealth to have any chance at all. some maps don't have that and buying a stealth is a waste of money on those maps..
