I truly wish I could be in a game with some of you guys, tactics are vital in renegade, and every game i seem to join nobody listens or seems to do anything even remotely resemble a tactic... let alone many tactics which are pretty much what is required to win a game... (or make it a fun game)... I say bring on the players who arent all rambo's and want to work as a team in one place... call that place a 'teamwork forum'.. and let the good games roll on !
