O.k peeps....here's a quick one!! have been playing for just a few days now but am thoroughly enjoying the game! I am trying to decide as to whether it is better than Half-Life but honestly can't tell! It has plus sides over HL but also falls at certain points. For example, in Half-life, the enemies are VERY clever! In Ren, they are challenging but are they clever??? So, to help me decide which is better, I want to know what parts you feel are the games BEST points and it's Worst points also! For me, the best points are the vehicles, the idea of the officers as kinda 'spawn' links and the Nuclear/Ion cannon beacons...! The downers for me are the AI scriptings, loading times and lack of an on-screen map! So, I know it's not a strategic post, but heck, I feel the lack of AI signifies a strategic point huh?!
