Ok, I just beat this level. I ended up losing my mammoth after I destroyed the Obelisk, so I had to do everything the hard way. Across from the Obelisk there is a path through the stone wall, walk through there and you'll enter a big room. Kill everyone there, then go through the path on the other side. You should come to an open area containing the airstrip and construction yard. The airstrip is a piece of cake to take down. Then take care of the construction yard. Head up to the gate that is there and you can open it with the switch. That leads to the power plant and the comm center. Since your tank is gone you'll have to enter each building and destroy it from the terminal. After you take out both buildings open the other gate and head back to the temple, your beacon is waiting.
