I used a remote C4 to blow up an artillery once. I don't think that timed C4 will work very well. I tried once but they just drove away. Once I was using hotwire (an engineer before than I had enough money to buy hotwire)I played a very supportive role and only get killed twice in the game. I was so busy disarming nuke beacons for four times fixing damaged tank and lay mines in the tunnel. It was a 32 player game and I got 9th in points. Engineer can get you lots of points if used properly.
