It's not only enemies that steal your tanks when you get out to repair it... I drive my tank back into the base (as there weren't any engineers around), stick it in a corner, hop out, start repairing it, it gets to nearly full health, and one of my 'teammates' jumps in and drives off with it...of course, thats not much of a problem coz u've always got a few thousands credits left, unless u die heaps...
