Unfortunately tunnel wars are a part of this game. Yes, I understand that. But by definition sniping is hitting the target from a distance, and trying not to be seen. If you get into a situation where you see someone in a tunnel, then of course you need to duke it out. That's not what I'm addressing. I'm talking about "sniper" servers where I sit in the field waiting for a target and noone shows up, because all the 10 yr olds are doing " fun " tunnel wars. If that's what you like, so be it. Host an infantry server. But don't call it a sniper server. See the difference?
